Handyma'am Services

Dear Customers and Friends –

Hopefully, the past few weeks have brought festivities that have filled your heart and homes with love and anticipation for the new year. Festivities that, for a moment, allowed those quirky, loose, crooked, cracked, peeling, leaking, odd-ball, “I need to fix that some day” inconveniences around your home recede into the background. Inconveniences that will, no doubt, begin to reemerge as life slows down, the holidays fade away and the bliss of your daily routine returns.

I started my handyma'am training early and have been handling the leaky, loose and cracked since I was two years old (see photos). My training continued with several years working with Dennis Sovick and Chris Carrier, building new homes, additions and remodels. I've also worked for Solar Glass Window and Door, gaining valuable experience in the field of exterior openings.

Many of you have mentioned different projects that you want me to do, and NOW is the time to contact me to schedule whatever it is that you want done. If you are a new customer, or an already existing one, make sure to you fill out your “Honey Do List” on the back side of this letter and then call me. I usually schedule about a week or two in advance, but I always save some “emergency slots” for things that need to be fixed right away. This past year, I have done a lot of small and big painting projects with my dear friend Liz Barnez (yes, the singer Liz ...), and we love to put beautiful colors in people's homes.

I have also started working for Energy Logic. I have gone through extensive training to be an Energy Auditor and I will be ready to schedule customers in the end of January 2009. Testing your home with a blower door and infrared camera is a great way to reduce energy cost/use, improve indoor air quality, address comfort issues and help save the environment, one house at a time. Please let me know if you would be interested in having your house tested, and feel free to look up Energy Logic on the Internet for more info on what we do.

Please take the time to fill out the “Honey Do List” over the next few days and weeks. Use the magnet provided and stick it on your refrigerator for a convenient way to write things down as you come across them in your home.
